Sava Dunes is along the Inhambane coastline, and sits neatly on top of the beach dunes. The location is quite a bit north of the busy Tofino beach (roughly 5.5 km) and close to the south of Barra beach (1.5 km).

In terms of getting to the lodge, we recommend flying.

You will need to fly into either Vilanculos or Inhambane, and the lodge will transfer you from the airport. These road transfers are at an extra cost and will need to be arranged along with your booking. Inhambane is the closest and most accessible, and the lodge is only 25 km from the centre of Inhambane. Vilanculos is about a 4 hour drive from Inhambane.

Mozambique's National Airline (LAM) has flights to Inhambane from OR Tambo Airport in Johan-nesburg, and connecting flights from Mozambique's capital city Maputo. Both LAM and SA Airlink offer flights to Vilanculos.

If you choose to self-drive to Sava Dunes, you will need a 4x4. The terrain is sandy, challenging and is in a remote destination. It requires a certain level of skill to navigate the landscape.

DRIVING DIRECTIONS

After passing through Inhambane continue for approximately 26km, after which you will arrive at Babalaza; a small town. You will see a group of signs indicating Tofino to the right and Barra straight ahead - continue straight towards Barra. After 5km you will see our Sava Dunes sign on your right hand side - turn right onto the sand road.

Please note that this stretch of the journey is 4x4 only. We suggest that you deflate your tyres, even as low as 1 bar if necessary.

Continue for approximately 2km at which point you should see a large orange electrical transformer box on your left hand side, immediately after passing this you need to turn right onto a narrow sand track (before the brick wall on the right hand side).

Continue along this track; keeping right - after 1.7km you will arrive at Sava Dunes.
